NPC Rewards Policy

So you want to be an NPC for us do you???

NPCs (non-playing characters) make up all the monsters, townsfolk and other characters that PCs (playing characters) interact with. Playing an NPC opens you up to a wide range of roles and skills to play and many opportunities to experience the game from all sides.

Here is what to expect when you NPC for us full-time: From the start of game until the end of the game you are going to be expected to be available. This doesn't mean you won't be able to sleep or eat! It just means that we play a full game and try to make the most out of every minute. The monster shack close from 4am to 8am on Saturday morning and 4am on Sunday morning, so if someone comes in late at night you may be woken up to be a monster (this usually means we won't wake you up that early in the morning though). In the morning on Sunday there may be monsters that go out around 8-9am to wake up the PC's.

So in short plan for a LONG, fun game.

When you play an NPC, we expect you to play the card you are given. If you have any questions or concerns, then please ask a plot or staff member. We expect you to not add any additional skills, abilities, etc. to the monster you are playing. We expect you to listen to the staff. We expect you to have fun.

Please read the NERO LARP Staff and Volunteer Guidelines prior to coming to an event.

With that said, what are the benefits of NPCing for us and why would you want to exhaust yourself like this if you aren't playing your character? Well there are several rewards for NPCing.

FULL-TIME NPC REWARDS

First, you receive 'max out' experience for the character of your choice equal to that of the days that you NPC.

Second, we have a Full-Time NPC grab bag which you can draw two items for every day that you NPC. The items in this grab bag range from coin, production, a formal scroll, money off events, to even magic items. You also get an additional draw when you stay until the end of the event and help cleanup, for a total of 5 draws in a typical 2 day weekend event.

NOTE: If you are not present at the end of the event, you forfeit your draws for the weekend.

Nero Piedmont NPC Rewards Policy

Third, the event that you Full-Time NPC is FREE.

Forth, you receive Goblin Stamps for your time over the weekend.

Fifth, we have something called NPC points. As you NPC for us you earn 1 NPC point per day (thus in a normal weekend you earn 2 NPC points). You can use these points to buy a variety of different things.
